Fresh Fish – Whole fish and fish steaks should, preferably, be purchased from a store which has reliable rabbinical supervision. This is because non-kosher stores that sell fish commonly use one knife to cut different species, kosher and non-kosher alike. Therefore, residue from the slicing of non-kosher fish may remain on the blade of the knife and, subsequently, be rubbed onto the cutting site of the kosher fish. However, When this option is unavailable, one may buy whole fish or fish steaks, even gutted, from any store, provided the following conditions are met:

Guide to Kashrus – Does it Need a Hechsher (Certification)?

(Year-round, not Pesach/Passover)

1. One did not actually see the kosher fish soaking amidst non-kosher fish.
2. Some removable scales are still on the fish.
3. Prior to cooking the fish, one should take a straight edged knife and, using only minimal pressure, scrape off the area where the store knife would have cut. This would remove any residue from the blade that cut the non-kosher fish. (No solid fish pieces are cut or removed during this process.)
4. Subsequently, wash the fish thoroughly.
