Rosh Hashana Food Guide

For Rosh Hashana, there are many customs of eating various foods. A general guide to which foods require kosher certification can be found on our website. Here are some Rosh Hashana-related examples:

1. Fresh Fruit and Vegetables are acceptable without certification unless they are imported from Eretz Yisroel. All produce from Eretz Yisroel requires certification to ensure that all appropriate halachos were observed.
2. Fish: Raw fish can be purchased without certification using the criteria in our fish guide. This applies to whole fish, cuts or fish heads.
3. Honey –
 - unflavored, liquid, does not require certification.
 - Flavored, requires reliable certification.
 - Non-filtered is not recommended without certification.

The following foods have infestation concerns regardless of certification status. For more information, see our produce guide.

1. Figs: Require inspection by turning the fig inside out and looking for noticeable webbing. If you check a few fruit in a package and there is no webbing, the rest may be used without inspection.
2. Dates: Whole or imported dates require inspection; Domestic pitted dates do not require inspection
3. Leek: Examine the outside for any leaf miner trails. Check between the layers for thrips or other insects.
4. Golden Raisins: Recent testing has shown an increased infestation issue specifically in golden raisins. As such, golden raisins should not be used, regardless of the source, even when bearing a generally accepted certification, until further notice. Currently, this concern does not apply to red raisins or currants.
5. Black Eyed Peas: Dried Peas should first be boiled in water. After they have been fully cooked, allow the peas to soak in the water for 2-3 hours. The peas will then swell and the peel will become translucent. Then check as instructed below. (Canned or Frozen Peas may be checked straight out of the can/bag; there is no need to boil or soak.) To check all types:
 - Take the peas and inspect for holes or dark-colored stains, as this may indicate an insect beneath the thin peel.
 - If there is a dark spot on the peel, remove the thin skin and check if there is a cavity with a bug in it. NOTE: The black "eye" spot is not a sign of infestation. Similarly, orange-colored stains on the surface are not signs of infestation; only dark or black stains are of concern.

As always, feel free to call our office with any questions.
